Division 2—Objects and simplified outline

3 Objects

The objects of this Act are:

- (a) to provide for national consistency in the regulation of higher education; and
- (b) to regulate higher education using:
  - (i) a standards-based quality framework; and
  - (ii) principles relating to regulatory necessity, risk and proportionality; and
- (c) to protect and enhance:
  - (i) Australia's reputation for quality higher education and training services; and
  - (ii) Australia's international competitiveness in the higher education sector; and
  - (iii) excellence, diversity and innovation in higher education in Australia; and
- (d) to encourage and promote a higher education system that is appropriate to meet Australia's social and economic needs for a highly educated and skilled population; and
- (e) to protect students undertaking, or proposing to undertake, higher education in Australia by requiring the provision of quality higher education; and
- (f) to ensure students undertaking, or proposing to undertake, higher education, have access to information relating to higher education in Australia; and
- (g) to protect and enhance the academic integrity of courses provided by higher education providers by prohibiting academic cheating services.

4 Simplified outline

The following is a simplified outline of this Act:

- An entity must be registered before it can offer or confer any of the following awards (regulated higher education awards):
  - (a) Australian higher education awards;
  - (b) overseas higher education awards, if those awards relate to courses of study provided at Australian premises.
- Registered higher education providers must have their courses of study accredited before those courses can be provided in connection with regulated higher education awards. Some providers (including those providers registered in the “Australian University” provider category) are authorised to self-accredit some or all of their courses of study.
- The Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA) registers providers and accredits courses of study. TEQSA regulates higher education using principles relating to regulatory necessity, risk and proportionality, and using a standards-based quality framework.
- That quality framework is a series of standards made by the Minister on the advice of the Higher Education Standards Panel.
- TEQSA has a role in preventing and minimising the use and promotion of academic cheating services in courses provided by higher education providers.

TEQSA may review or examine an accredited course to assess whether the course continues to meet the Threshold Standards.

62 Matters relevant to assessments

Consent

- (1) Sections 59, 60 and 61 have effect subject to subsection (2).

- (2) TEQSA must obtain an entity's consent before:
- (a) entering the entity's premises; or
  - (b) doing anything on those premises;
- for the purposes of a review or examination under this Division.

- (3) However, subsection (2) has effect subject to section 24 (about a registered provider having to comply with conditions).

Note 1: When deciding whether to give the consent mentioned in subsection (2), a registered higher education provider needs to have regard to the condition that it cooperate with TEQSA (see section 31).

Note 2: A condition could be imposed under subsection 32(1) for the provider to arrange for another entity's consent to be given.

Operations that can be reviewed or examined

- (4) The operations covered by sections 59 and 60 are not limited to the entity's higher education operations.

Part 5A—Tuition protection

Division 1—Preliminary

62A What this Part is about

Certain registered higher education providers who default in delivering a unit of study to a domestic student for whom an up-front payment for the unit of study has been made must give information about the default to the Higher Education Tuition Protection Director and to the student. If the student was entitled to FEE-HELP assistance or HECS-HELP assistance for the unit, the provider may also have obligations under Part 5-1A of the Higher Education Support Act 2003 in relation to the default.

The provider must assist the student to find a replacement unit or replacement course, or provide a refund to the student (and offer the student a choice about this). If the provider fails to discharge this obligation, the Director must offer the student a suitable replacement course. If there is no suitable replacement course, or the student does not accept the offer, the Director must provide a refund to the student.

62B Application of this Part

- (1) This Part applies to registered higher education providers other than:
  - (a) Table A providers; or
  - (b) providers that are owned by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory; or
  - (c) providers that are established under one of the following:
    - (i) the Technical and Further Education Commission Act 1990 (NSW);
    - (ii) the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 (Vic.);

- (iii) the TAFE Queensland Act 2013 (Qld);
  - (iv) the Vocational Education and Training Act 1996 (WA);
  - (v) the TAFE SA Act 2012 (SA);
  - (vi) the Training and Workforce Development Act 2013 (Tas.);
  - (vii) the Canberra Institute of Technology Act 1987 (ACT); or
  - (d) providers of a kind prescribed by the Up-front Payments Guidelines.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), the Minister may, by written notice, determine that this Part:
- (a) applies to a specified registered higher education provider; or
  - (b) does not apply to a specified registered higher education provider;
- if the Minister considers it appropriate that this Part applies, or does not apply, to the provider.
- (3) In deciding whether it is appropriate that this Part applies, or does not apply, to a specified registered higher education provider, the Minister must have regard to the following:
- (a) the risk of the provider defaulting in relation to one or more domestic students;
  - (b) the provider's financial status and capacity;
  - (c) any non-compliance, or risk of future non-compliance, with the Threshold Standards, this Act, legislative instruments made under this Act or this Act's associated provisions;
  - (d) any advice given to the Minister by TEQSA or the Higher Education Tuition Protection Director in relation to any of the matters referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c);
  - (e) any other matter the Minister considers appropriate.
- (4) A determination under subsection (2):
- (a) may be made either unconditionally or subject to conditions; and
  - (b) may be expressed to be in force indefinitely or for a specified period.

Section 62C

---

- (5) A determination made under subsection (2) is not a legislative instrument.
- (6) Despite subsection (1), sections 62N, 62P and 62Q apply to all registered higher education providers.

Note: Section 62N deals with the obligations of providers to provide information about replacement courses, section 62P deals with obligations of providers who provide replacement courses and section 62Q deals with the requirement of providers who provide replacement courses to keep up-to-date enrolment information.

Note: If the student was entitled, or would have been entitled, to FEE-HELP assistance or HECS-HELP assistance in relation to the unit of study (or any other affected units of the original course) the provider may also have defaulted in relation to the student under the Higher Education Support Act 2003: see section 166-10 of that Act.

Legislation history and amendment history—Endnotes 3 and 4

Amending laws are annotated in the legislation history and amendment history.

The legislation history in endnote 3 provides information about each law that has amended (or will amend) the compiled law. The information includes commencement details for amending laws and details of any application, saving or transitional provisions that are not included in this compilation.

The amendment history in endnote 4 provides information about amendments at the provision (generally section or equivalent) level. It also includes information about any provision of the compiled law that has been repealed in accordance with a provision of the law.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2003 authorises First Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial and presentational changes to a compiled law in preparing a compilation of the law for registration. The changes must not change the effect of the law. Editorial changes take effect from the compilation registration date.

If the compilation includes editorial changes, the endnotes include a brief outline of the changes in general terms. Full details of any changes can be obtained from the Office of Parliamentary Counsel.

Misdescribed amendments

A misdescribed amendment is an amendment that does not accurately describe how an amendment is to be made. If, despite the misdescription, the amendment can be given effect as intended, then the misdescribed amendment can be incorporated through an editorial change made under section 15V of the Legislation Act 2003.

If a misdescribed amendment cannot be given effect as intended, the amendment is not incorporated and “(md not incorp)” is added to the amendment history.
