6 Application

- (1) The amendments made by items 1 to 5 of this Schedule apply in relation to corrupt conduct, whether engaged in before or after the commencement of the Law Enforcement Integrity Commissioner Act 2006.
- (2) However, the requirement for the Chief Executive Officer of Customs to notify a corruption issue to the Integrity Commissioner under that Act only applies on and after this item commences.
- (3) To avoid doubt, the amendments made by items 1 to 5 apply in relation to corrupt conduct even if the conduct was engaged in at a time when Customs was known as the Australian Customs Service.
- (4) In this item:
corrupt conduct has the same meaning as in the Law Enforcement Integrity Commissioner Act 2006.
corruption issue has the same meaning as in the Law Enforcement Integrity Commissioner Act 2006.

Schedule 2—Proceeds of crime amendments

Part 1—Responsible authorities for proceeds of crime: the DPP and the AFP

Division 1—Main amendments

Australian Federal Police Act 1979

1 At the end of section 69C

Add:

- (3) The Commissioner may, in writing, delegate to the Deputy Commissioner or a senior executive AFP employee all or any of the Commissioner's powers, functions or duties as a proceeds of crime authority under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 or any other Act.

Note: As a proceeds of crime authority, the Commissioner may conduct proceedings under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, and has related powers, functions and duties under that Act and other Acts (see the definitions of proceeds of crime authority and responsible authority in section 338 of that Act).

2 Application of amendment—the Australian Federal Police Act 1979

- (1) The amendment of the Australian Federal Police Act 1979 made by item 1 of this Schedule applies as set out in this item.
- (2) The amendment applies in relation to the Commissioner's powers, functions or duties as a proceeds of crime authority in relation to orders (or applications or proceedings for orders) under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 made or (in the case of proceedings) started before, at or after the commencement of item 1.
- (3) The amendments apply under subitem (2) of this item regardless of whether the conduct giving rise to those orders (or applications or proceedings for orders) occurred, or is suspected to have occurred, before, at or after the commencement of item 1.

Proceeds of Crime Act 2002

3 After section 315A

Insert:

315B Transfer of responsibility for principal orders and applications

Transfer

- (1) A *proceeds of crime authority (the transferor authority) may, with the consent of the other proceeds of crime authority (the transferee authority), transfer to the other authority responsibility for:
- (a) an application for a *principal order (if the order has not been made); or
 - (b) a principal order.
- Note 1: The proceeds of crime authority is the Commissioner of the Australian Federal Police, or the DPP (see the definition of proceeds of crime authority in section 338). Either authority may start and conduct proceedings under this Act.
- Note 2: The proceeds of crime authority that applies for a principal order under this Act, or to which responsibility is transferred under this section, is referred to in this Act as the responsible authority (see the definition in section 338).
- Note 3: The principal orders under this Act are restraining orders, forfeiture orders, pecuniary penalty orders, literary proceeds orders and unexplained wealth orders (see the definitions of principal order and the individual orders in section 338).
- (2) The transferee authority must give a written notice of transfer of responsibility for an application for a *principal order, or for a principal order, to:
- (a) in the case of a transfer of responsibility for an application for a principal order:
 - (i) the court before which proceedings on the application are being heard (or are to be heard); and
 - (ii) each party (if any) to those proceedings; and
 - (iii) any court in which proceedings related to the application are being heard, or are to be heard, if the transferee authority considers it appropriate; and
 - (iv) any person to whom notice of the application has been given; and

Schedule 2 Proceeds of crime amendments

Part 1 Responsible authorities for proceeds of crime: the DPP and the AFP

- (v) the Family Court of Australia, if an application has been made to that court by a *proceeds of crime authority for a stay of proceedings because of the application for the principal order, or that court has given notice to a proceeds of crime authority of a stay having been granted; or
- (b) in the case of a transfer of responsibility for a principal order:
 - (i) the court that made the order; and
 - (ii) each party (if any) to the proceedings in that court on the application for the order; and
 - (iii) any court in which proceedings related to the order are being heard, or are to be heard, if the transferee authority considers it appropriate; and
 - (iv) any person to whom notice of the order, or of the application for the order, has been given; and
 - (v) the Family Court of Australia, if an application has been made to that court by a proceeds of crime authority for a stay of proceedings because of the order or the application for the order, or that court has given notice to a proceeds of crime authority of a stay having been granted.

Note: Notice is not required to be given in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (4).

- (3) It is sufficient compliance with a requirement under subsection (2) to give a person (other than a court) a notice of transfer if the transferee authority takes reasonable steps to give the notice to the person.
- (4) The transferee authority for an application for a *restraining order or a *forfeiture order is not required to give any notice of the transfer (other than to the court before which proceedings on the application are being heard):
 - (a) in the case of an application for a restraining order:
 - (i) if the court has been requested under subsection 26(4) to consider the application without notice having been given to the person; or
 - (ii) during a period ordered by the court under subsection 33(3) (delay in giving notice to protect integrity of an investigation or prosecution); or

- (b) in the case of an application for a forfeiture order—if the court has, under section 63 (person has absconded), dispensed with the requirement to give notice to the person under subsections 61(1) and 62(3).

Day of effect

- (5) A transfer takes effect on the day the following court receives the notice of transfer given under subsection (2):
 - (a) in the case of a transfer of responsibility for an application for a *principal order—the court before which proceedings on the application are being heard (or are to be heard);
 - (b) in the case of a transfer of responsibility for a principal order—the court that made the order.

Effects of transfer—proceedings etc.

- (6) On and after the day of effect of a transfer of responsibility for an application for a *principal order, or a principal order:
 - (a) the transferee authority replaces the transferor authority as a party to any applications or proceedings (related applications or proceedings) under this or any other Act in relation to, or arising out of, the application or order, or to which the application or order is relevant; and
 - (b) the transferee authority may (subject to this Act and any other Act) initiate, conduct or respond to any related applications or proceedings; and
 - (c) the transferee authority is responsible for any functions, powers and duties under this Act, or any other Act, to be performed or exercised by a *responsible authority in relation to all of the following:
 - (i) the application or the order;
 - (ii) any related applications or proceedings;
 - (iii) any order (including a principal order, or another principal order) arising out of related applications or proceedings.

Effects of transfer—as between transferee and transferor authorities

- (7) On and after the day of effect of the transfer, the following paragraphs have effect in relation to the application or order and any related applications or proceedings:
- (a) the functions, powers and duties of the transferor authority are extinguished (subject to subsection (8));
 - (b) the transferee authority is bound by the actions of the transferor authority while it was the *responsible authority;
 - (c) without limiting paragraph (b), the transferee authority is:
 - (i) bound by any undertakings with respect to the payment of damages or costs, or both, entered into by the transferor authority while it was the responsible authority; and
 - (ii) liable for any damages or costs awarded by any court against the transferor authority on or after that day, whether or not the damages or costs result from any action (or failure to act) of the transferor authority while it was the responsible authority.
- (8) However, the transferor authority continues to be liable on and after the day of effect of the transfer for any damages or costs that had been awarded against the authority, while it was the *responsible authority, in relation to the application or order and any related applications or proceedings.

4 Section 338

Insert:

principal order means any of the following orders:

- (a) a *restraining order;
- (b) a *forfeiture order;
- (c) a *pecuniary penalty order;
- (d) a *literary proceeds order;
- (e) an *unexplained wealth order.

5 Section 338

Insert:

proceeds of crime authority means:

- (a) the Commissioner of the Australian Federal Police; or
- (b) the *DPP.

- Note 1: Section 69C of the Australian Federal Police Act 1979 provides for the delegation of the functions, powers and duties of the Commissioner of the Australian Federal Police under this Act.
- Note 2: Section 31 of the Director of Public Prosecutions Act 1983 provides for the delegation of the functions of the DPP.
- Note 3: If an application for a principal order, or a principal order, has already been made, the proceeds of crime authority responsible for the application or the order is referred to as the responsible authority (see the definition in this section).

6 Section 338

Insert:

responsible authority, in relation to an application for a *principal order, or a principal order, or to an application, proceedings, function, order, power or duty related to, or arising out of, such an application or order, means:

- (a) in the case of an application for a principal order:
 - (i) the *proceeds of crime authority that made the application; or
 - (ii) if responsibility for the application has been transferred under section 315B—the proceeds of crime authority to which responsibility has been transferred (or has been latest transferred) under that section; or
- (b) in the case of a principal order:
 - (i) the proceeds of crime authority that made the application for the order; or
 - (ii) if responsibility for that application, or the order, has been transferred under section 315B—the proceeds of crime authority to which responsibility has been transferred (or has been latest transferred) under that section.

Note 1: The proceeds of crime authority is the Commissioner of the Australian Federal Police, or the DPP (see the definition of proceeds of crime authority in this section). Either authority may start and conduct proceedings under this Act.

Note 2: Section 315B provides that responsibility for an application for a principal order, or for a principal order, may be transferred between the 2 proceeds of crime authorities.
