- (2) Treat the maximum contribution base for the quarter as nil for the purposes of working out the employer's individual superannuation guarantee shortfall under section 19 for the person for the quarter.

Note: An employer shortfall exemption certificate issued to a person in relation to a particular employer does not affect any other employer's individual superannuation guarantee shortfall for the person.

19AB Employer shortfall exemption certificate—application and issuing

Application for certificate

- (1) A person may apply to the Commissioner for the Commissioner to issue a certificate under this section (an employer shortfall exemption certificate) to the person in relation to:

Issuing of certificate

- (3) The Commissioner may issue the employer shortfall exemption certificate if the Commissioner is satisfied that:
- (a) if the certificate is not issued, the person is likely to have excess concessional contributions (within the meaning of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997) for the financial year (whether or not issuing the certificate would prevent that result); and
 - (b) if the certificate is issued, at least one other employer of the person is likely to have an individual superannuation guarantee shortfall for the person for the quarter that:
 - (i) is greater than nil; or
 - (ii) would be greater than nil but for a reduction under section 22 or 23; and
 - (c) it is appropriate in the circumstances to issue the certificate.
- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (3)(a), the Commissioner is to have regard to any other employer shortfall exemption certificate that has been issued, or is proposed to be issued, in relation to the person and a quarter in the financial year.
- (5) For the purposes of paragraph (3)(b), the Commissioner is to have regard to any other employer shortfall exemption certificate that has been issued, or is proposed to be issued, in relation to the person and the quarter.
- (6) For the purposes of paragraph (3)(c), the Commissioner may have regard to:

- (a) the effect that issuing the employer shortfall exemption certificate is likely to have on the person's concessional contributions (within the meaning of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997) for the financial year; and
 - (b) any other matter that the Commissioner considers relevant.
- (7) A person who is dissatisfied with a decision of the Commissioner under subsection (3) may object against the decision in the manner set out in Part IVC of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.
 - (8) The Commissioner may not vary or revoke an employer shortfall exemption certificate.
 - (9) An employer shortfall exemption certificate is not a legislative instrument.
