9. The instrument revokes a previously published MARA notice and is effective as of 1 April 1998. This retrospectivity is to enable registered migration agents to claim credit for any of the Continuing Professional Development activities listed in the notice, which they have completed within the 12 months prior to applying for repeat registration. It thus ensures that agents are not disadvantaged if they complete any of these activities before the notice is published.

- 10. The retrospective nature of the notice does not disadvantage migration agents in any way. This is because clause 4 of Schedule 1 of the Migration Agents Regulations 1998, ensures that agents can still claim activities that have been withdrawn by this instrument, provided that they are undertaken before the instrument is registered on the Federal Register of Legislative Instruments.
- 11. The Commonwealth is neither advantaged nor disadvantaged by the retrospectivity.
