Determination 2012 (No. 1)*

The Aged Care Act 1997 (the Act) provides for the regulation and funding of aged care services. Persons who are approved under the Act to provide residential aged care services (approved providers) can be eligible to receive residential care subsidy payments in respect of the care they provide to approved care recipients.

Paragraph 44-13(6)(a) of the Act provides that the Minister may determine by legislative instrument the amount of the oxygen supplement for a particular day. Paragraph 44-13(6)(b) of the Act provides that the Minister may determine by legislative instrument a method for working out the amount of oxygen supplement for a particular day.

An oxygen supplement will be provided where a care recipient needs to use oxygen on a regular and continuing basis. It does not include the provision of oxygen on a short-term, episodic or emergency basis. It is a daily supplement for eligible recipients.

The purpose of the Aged Care (Residential Care Subsidy – Amount of Oxygen Supplement) Determination 2012 (No. 1) (the Determination) is to set the oxygen supplement rate with effect from 1 July 2012. This Determination also revokes Aged Care (Residential Care Subsidy – Amount of Oxygen Supplement) Determination 2011 (No. 1). The difference between the Determinations is that the daily amount of [payment type] has been increased in accordance with movements in the Consumer Price Index.
