

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Issued by the Authority of the Minister for Health and Aged Care

Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Act 1995

Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules 2020

Section 8 of the Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Act 1995 (the Act) provides that the Minister may make Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules providing for matters required or permitted by the Act to be provided, or necessary or convenient to be provided, in order to carry out or give effect to the Act.

The Act imposes levies on private health insurers conducting health insurance business. The Act provides that the rate of complaints levy must be based on the number of complying health insurance policies on issue on the census day and may be different for policies under which different numbers of people are insured. The Act also provides that the rate of complaints levy must not exceed $0.50 a quarter in respect of complying health insurance policies under which only one person is insured and, otherwise, $1.00 a quarter.

The complaints levy is collected in accordance with the Private Health Insurance Act 2007 and the Private Health Insurance (Levy Administration) Rules 2015. The Private Health Insurance (Levy Administration) Rules 2015 specify that the complaints levy is payable on 31 December each year.

Purpose of the Rules

The Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules 2020 (the Rules) repeal and replace the Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules 2019 (the Previous Rules) to alter the rate of complaints levy payable. The Rules also specify the complaints levy days and the census day for the purposes of the Act.

The purpose of the complaints levy is to finance the administrative costs of the Private Health Insurance Ombudsman (PHIO). The functions of PHIO are set out at section 20D of the Ombudsman Act 1976. Functions of PHIO include dealing with complaints, conducting investigations, publishing and reporting information, and making recommendations.

The rate of complaints levy is based on the expected administrative costs of the PHIO for the financial year. A new numerator, equal to the PHIO budget for the current financial year, is inputted into the formulas for calculating the complaints levy rates in the Rules each year unless the PHIO budget is the same as the previous financial year.

Details of the Rules are set out in the Attachment.

The Rules commence on the day following their registration on the Federal Register of Legislation.

Consultation

Private health insurers are aware that the complaints levy amount they are required to pay changes from year to year, according to changes in the number of policies that private health insurers hold and increases/decreases in the expected administrative costs of the PHIO. Consequently, no consultation occurred in relation to these changes.

This Instrument is a legislative instrument for the purposes of the Legislation Act 2003.

Statement of Compatibility with Human Rights

Prepared in accordance with Part 3 of the Human Rights (Parliamentary Scrutiny) Act 2011

Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules 2020

This Legislative Instrument is compatible with the human rights and freedoms recognised or declared in the international instruments listed in section 3 of the Human Rights (Parliamentary Scrutiny) Act 2011.

Overview of the Legislative Instrument

The Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Rules 2020 (the Rules) specify the days on which the complaints levy is imposed, and the rate at which it is imposed, for the purposes of the Private Health Insurance (Complaints Levy) Act 1995 (the Act). The purpose of the complaints levy is to finance the administrative costs of the Private Health Insurance Ombudsman (PHIO).

A new rate of levy has been incorporated into the Rules.

Human rights implications

The Rules do not directly engage any of the individual human rights covered by the Human Rights (Parliamentary Scrutiny) Act 2011 because the complaints levy is imposed on private health insurers who conduct health insurance business, not on individuals.

However, the Rules indirectly engage article 12(1) of the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights by assisting with the progressive realisation of the right to a system of health protection which provides equality of opportunity for people to enjoy the highest attainable level of health.

The complaints levy funds the operations of the PHIO, which protects the interests of private health insurance consumers. The PHIO supports consumers in dealing with complaints they have about access to, or administration of, private health insurance policies. The continued collection of the complaints levy at an appropriate level to fund the PHIO is critical to ensure that consumers and health care providers have confidence in the administration of the private health insurance system, particularly through effective complaints management and consumer information services.

Conclusion

The Rules are compatible with human rights because it supports the right to health by ensuring the continued funding of the PHIO at appropriate levels.
